

CLIENTS

The Biomedical Engineering Outreach program was developed to serve many clients in addition to the advisors listed above. The main clients for the development of the project included the students and teachers of Madison's K-12 school system, the students and faculty of the Biomedical Engineering department at UW-Madison and the faculty of the Engineering Professional Development department.

BME 400 students and faculty advisors (Fall 2000)

Madison School District K-12 students